The Order of Saint Paul the First Hermit

(Latin: Ordo Fratrum Sancti Pauli Primi Eremitae, Croatian), known also simply as Pauline Fathers, is a monastic order, founded in Hungary during the 13th century. Its post-nominal letters are O.S.P.P.E. This name is derived from the hermit Saint Paul of Thebes (died ca. 345), canonized in 491 by Pope Gelasius I. After his death, a monastery taking him as its model was founded on Mount Sinai and still exists today.

During the persecution of the Christians by Caesar Decius in 250, young Paul fled to the Desert in Thebes by the Red Sea and learned to enjoy his solitary life "alone with God alone" so much, that he remained there for the rest of his life. He lived nearly ninety years in prayerful solitude, constant penance, and contemplation of God. Before he died he was discovered by St Anthony the Abbot who spread the news about his holiness.

It is believed that St Paul was kept alive by the fruit of a palm tree and by a raven which daily brought him a piece of bread. He died at the age of 113, at which time, as related by St Anthony, two lions dug a grave for him.

This story is captured in the coat-of-arms of the Order, showing the palm tree, two lions and a raven. The Pauline Order chose St. Paul the First Hermit as its Patron and Patriarch and thus took the name "Order of St. Paul the First Hermit".

In a spirit of appreciation, the Pauline Fathers offer each year a novena of prayers in honors of St. Paul the Hermit for all their benefactors, friends and supporters.
